2280 POLL TAXES AND EXEMPTION IN RANDALL CO.

Voting Strength Will Be Near 2500 in Randall County for the Year of 1936

TAXES PAID WELL

150 Young People Receive Poll Exemptions In Order to Vote—Probably 200 Overs in Randall

2130 poll taxes were paid and 150 exemptions were issued up to closing time Friday night at the office of R. N. Barnett, Tax Collector of Randall County. This makes the voting strength of the county 2280, with the exception of overs, which number will probably run 150 or more. There is a possibility of around 2450 voters in the county for the year, probably the largest number that has ever been qualified to cast a vote in the county.

The office of the tax collector was swamped Thursday and Friday, and many letters from the taxpayers living outside of the county were not opened before Monday owing to the volume of work.

While it is not possible to determine the amount of property taxes collected until the monthly report of the collector is compiled, indications were yesterday that about the usual percent of the taxes had been paid before closing time.

Collector Andy Walsh for the Canyon Schools reports that from indications the usual percent of taxes had been paid in the school district before the period closed for regular tax payments.

Indications from all over Texas are that an unusually heavy rush of tax payments was made during the closing days, especially of poll taxes. It is reported from Austin that there are possibilities of the largest vote being cast in the primaries this year in the history of the state.

A detailed report for Randall county will not be available on poll tax payments for some time, until a careful check has been made.

In the game Monday night the Buffs lead 25 to 10 at the half, while Tuesday night the Goldbugs held the Buffs to a close score of 16-14 for the first period.

Durant To Talk Here Friday, February 7th

"The Crisis of American Civilization" to be the Subject of Noted Lecturer

Dr. Will Durant, called "a peddler of new ideas," will defend our present civilization from those prophets of disaster when he speaks on "The Crisis in American Civilization," Friday, Feb. 7, at 8:30 o'clock in the Administration Building auditorium.

A student of conditions in all parts of the world, Dr. Durant is enthusiastic about western civilization, yet critical of the terrors America must face. He shows a keen perspective as he talks knowingly of our economic, moral, and political short-comings.

Dr. Durant's compelling manner and valid opinions have brought him more recognition from the press of the country than that accorded any other American speaker dealing with intellectual matters.

"The Story of Philosophy," Dr. Durant's best known book, has popularized that subject with millions. It had its beginning in a series of lectures at Labor Temple School. So great was the demand, they were revamped and put in book form. Within three weeks after its publication, this book became the best selling non-fiction book in America. After ten years, it is still high on the list.

Dr. Durant's appearance is the first lecture number of the second semester.

Admission will be 40c and 75c.

92 New Students Enrolled Start New Semester

789 Complete Programs Are Now Made—Total Attendance Over That of Last Semester

With the enrollment period for the second semester only one-third over, 92 new students have entered college and more than 789 have made their programs and are already attending classes. Although it is too early to predict the exact attendance for this semester, indications are that the enrollment will be even larger than that of the semester just ended.

Many of the students who completed the work for their Bachelor's degree at the end of the first semester, had already secured teaching positions and are now at work in the class room.

He has been sold to the Brooklyn Dodgers for his third trial in the major leagues. His other two trips up were with the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Braves, neither of which gave him a chance in a game owing to his unorthodox style of batting.

10,000 Permits In County Possible Drivers' Licenses

All Who Would Operate Vehicles on Highways Must Secure Permits—No Charge Made

There will probably be 10,000 drivers licenses issued in Randall county to the various people who expect to operate vehicles on the highways during the coming year.

The office of R. N. Barnett, tax collector, will be swamped with requests for these licenses after the period opens for issuing these permits. The law contemplates that new 1936 automobile license plates may be sold by the tax collector after February 1st, but these may not be placed upon cars before March 1st, and all cars must be equipped by April 1st. However, car owners and those who expect to operate cars must have their permits, and these will likely not be ready until about the 14th of February.

No fees are charged for the issuance of licenses nor for application or verification of persons applying.

Few exemptions are allowed by provisions of the bill. Those are: persons driving or operating a road roller, road machinery or farm tractor, implement of husbandry (not including any automobile or truck), farm wagon, farm trailer or carriage temporarily drawn; persons in the service of the United States and when furnished with a driver's permit, and operating an official motor vehicle in such service; drivers of commercial motor (Continued on last page)

D. S. Hill Makes Announcement for Commissioner No. 3

D. S. HILL

The News is authorized to announce the candidacy of D. S. Hill as a candidate for County Commissioner, precinct No. 3.

"I have been urged to make this race by a large number of my friends in this precinct," stated Mr. Hill yesterday. "I was a candidate two years ago and greatly appreciate the courtesy shown me by the voters of the precinct, and hope that in the coming primary they shall give me due consideration."

Mr. Hill has been a resident of Randall county for 20 years. He is engaged in farming and stock raising. During this time he has been greatly interested in the affairs of the county, and if elected will devote his time to see that the interests of his precinct, and the welfare of the entire county are well considered in the Commissioners Court.

"I want every voter in the precinct to know that if I am elected that I shall give every one a fair and square deal. That I will work for the best interests of all the people of the precinct regardless of where they may live in the precinct, or what their past political affiliations may have been. I believe that the Commissioner should represent every tax payer, and if elected, this shall be not only my sworn duty, but my pleasure," stated Mr. Hill. "I feel that I am qualified for the office; that I have a good understanding of the duties of the office, and if elected, I shall give the people my very best service. I want to see every voter and talk with each and every one during this campaign," concluded Mr. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow went to Dallas Sunday to attend the funeral of J. A. Morris, grandfather of their baby girl.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE HITS THE PLAINS SECTION

Six Degrees Above Is Registered Here Tuesday—Second Coldest Day of Winter

22 DEGREES DROP

Sudden Norther Hits In This Section Monday, Bringing a Sharp Decline

The thermometer dropped 21 degrees Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, going from 47 degrees above to 26 degrees above in about 30 minutes. The drop continued to 9 degrees above Tuesday morning, marking the second coldest time of the year.

This temperature was registered at the Gas office, while at the Santa Fe depot the mercury stood at 6 degrees above. Last week the coldest wave of the year hit, with the temperature dropping to 4 above at the Gas office and 3 degrees below at the depot. The thermometer at the depot is on a post on the north side of the building, the north wind getting a clear sweep at the recording instrument. At the Gas office the thermometer is on the west side of the building, with two-story business houses to the north which breaks the force of the cold blasts.

Dust filled the air Monday afternoon as a result of the high wind.

During the afternoon a light snow fell at times, but little moisture resulted.

The wind subsided during the night, and warmer temperature followed Tuesday.

The temperature on Wednesday morning stood at 13 degrees above, but moderated throughout the day.

Ex-Service Men Are Filing Applications for Payment Bonus

Application blanks for the payment of the bonus were received Thursday by Guy Harp, Post Commander, and Andy Walsh, Adjutant of the Palo Duro Post. Ex-Service men of the county are filling out their applications which will be forwarded to Washington.

No time limit has been set for the filing of these applications, but it is understood that a limit may be set in the near future.

Mr. Harp and Mr. Walsh were in Amarillo Sunday attending a meeting of service officers of the state, who explained the operation of the new bonus bill, and other details in connection with veterans' payments.

While the bonus bill states that the 1945 certificates which are now held by the veterans may be exchanged for baby bonds on June 15, 1936, it is stated that this exchange will likely not be possible before the first of July owing to the vast amount of work connected with this exchange.

Veterans who do not elect to exchange their present certificates for the baby bonds may hold their present paper. Those who make the exchange for bonds have the option of cashing them at once, or holding them until maturity.

This is the first time that the Book Club has given a play as a feature of its year's work.

Americans have a hard time understanding the ways of Europeans, specially the devotion of the English people to their royalty. The King of England has less power than the governor in any state in this union. The King is the show man of the empire, continually on parade, and the people generally are completely subservient to the display of His Majesty. There is something about the whole set-up that Americans cannot understand. Yet there is something about the English people which impels one to understand that they have something which is lacking in this nation. How a little handful of people on a small island can control the destinies of several millions of people in an empire stretching around the globe is a real marvel in leadership. The English people have always been colonizers. The fact that America has always had more land than we knew what to do with has not developed this trait which is so prominent among our ancestors from England. While we are wondering about the English form of government and the loyalty to the King, it is well to note that the Englishman cannot understand our rough and tumble form of politics, and wonder as to why we elect our public officers on the platform of needing a job rather than through the policy of selecting the ones best qualified for the job.

Usually leaders adjust ordinary persons with extraordinary determination to do something which they believe is worthwhile.

Dr. Townsend has vetoed the plan of his followers to form a third party. The Doctor is smarter than most people believe. He is inducing candidates of all parties to accept his platform and become Townsends. A Republican won in Michigan on this platform. Now candidates all over the nation see visions of easy political sledding by adopting this idea. Several candidates from Texas are running for congress, one for united States Senator and one for Governor, with the Townsend plank as their platform. None of them are attempting to explain where the money will come from to pay the pension.

Martin Dies has decided not to run against Senator Morris Sheppard. Dies has been attempting for more than a year to stir up sentiment in favor of his candidacy. While many people of Texas would like to see a more aggressive man in the senate than Sheppard, they are careful that they do not choose a less capable one. Incidentally, Sheppard has always been an administrative man, and for that reason no change is desired by the administration, fearful that a less qualified man might be selected if the campaign was opened wide.

Some fellow up in Washington writes The News that he will send us a picture of Canyon's new post office building for $5.00—that is, he will attempt to induce the architects to give him a drawing of the plans. In view of absence of any guaranty that the supposed picture will resemble in the least the actual finished product, guess we'll wait a few months and see what is produced in the way of brick and concrete.

Unscrupulous men will work among ex-service men from now until the bonus is paid in July with all kinds of schemes. The vets should keep in mind there is plenty of time to spend the money after they receive it. All service that is needed to make application for payments is handled free through the various American Legion Posts.

Those Texas Democrats who voted for Hoover in preference of Al Smith have no more to be ashamed of now than those of us who stayed by the party and supported Smith. Those who "took a walk with Hoover" may look with sympathy upon those who are astounded to see the Happy Warrior threatening to take a walk away from Roosevelt in 1936.

The laboring men and the farmers of this nation are certainly for Roosevelt. He is the only president who has ever attempted to do anything worth while for them. They will not forget the interest of the president, regardless of the mean things which may be said against Roosevelt by the millionaires of Wall Street.

If Al Smith thinks that the 1932 Democratic platform was such a great document, having written several of the planks himself, let him run for President with this platform. He will soon find the man means more than the platform; that conditions lead to changes which no platform may foresee.

Every citizen who has a vote in the coming wind erosion election certainly should favor the creation of the district in Randall county. Maybe the memory of our people is short, but just one duster during February should convince every citizen that it is the wise thing to do to support this measure.

Congress has hit a hard knot. Following the passage of the bonus bill over the President's veto, Roosevelt wrote a letter kindly asking them to furnish the money. This puts the President in the clear so far as his program of no new taxes is concerned.

Yesterday's heroes are soon forgotten. Babe Ruth is little attraction since he quit knocking them over the fence. People naturally like to follow the fellow who is going places and doing things.

Reading the list of Liberty League membership is almost like calling the roll of the millionaires of America. That gang is certainly afraid they are going to be forced to pay their just share of the nation's taxes.

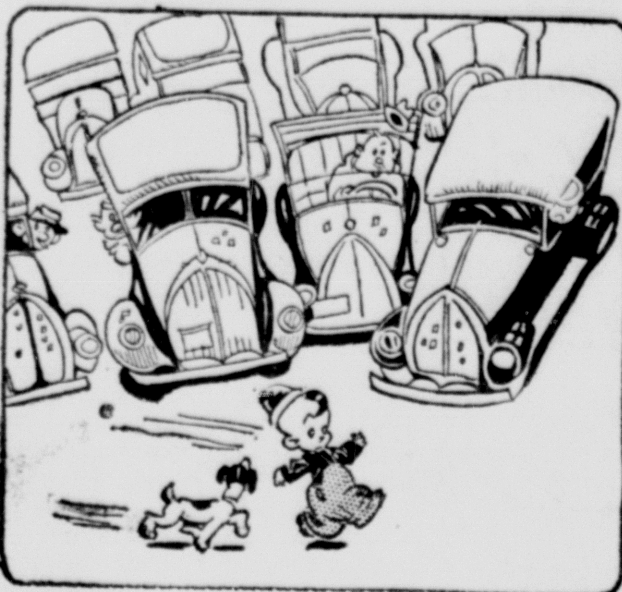

At any rate these little snows, and this cold weather beats what the Panhandle was having this time last year. The Panhandle most certainly must be definitely on the way back to recovery.

THE HITCHING POST OF YORE
A twenty-five years ago item in the Canyon News: "Hitching posts are placed at the rear of the normal building to accommodate students riding to school."

The Higgins News: Twenty-five years have made a vast difference in this little old world of ours.

The festive cowpuncher used to be pictured as a bad man with a six-gun in his fist and all "liquored up" ready for a grand parade down Main street shooting the lights out. His pony was left to wander about at will, but never wandered far even tho he did not know a hitching post from a doodle bug. At the rear of stores and on side lots farm teams were hitched to posts and the hitch rack was as common as flies in July. And there were plenty of flies.

Those horse and buggy days were not slow for that day and time, but today even the fastest car is too slow. If the old fashioned mother was "skeered" if Roan went faster than a "brisk walk," what would she do today when even "Pap" has the habit of making around sixty miles an hour and son or daughter goes so fast the car can't keep up with itself.

The airplane skims "up above the world so high" and its star-like gleam has no time to twinkle because it is out of sight before it has hardly arrived. Passengers on planes get started and before they get used to the air, they are there.

A lad takes a correspondence course and in two weeks knows how to handle any job under the sun and gets away with it. The pretty farm maid does not have to do the milking—the cow hitches herself to a machine and honks when the flow of milk is ready to quit. The separator puts cream and milk where they belong and the cream can come to town to do the family shopping.

It's a wonderful age for a fact. But old Roan knew enough to amble along and mind his business and stay in the road when the driver was "sparking" and needed both hands, but a car gets disgusted and slithers into a ditch. Alas, that may end with the neckers neck broken.

Furthermore, the horses tied to the post at the Canyon normal might get pretty cold before it was time for the students to return home, but those nags did not have to be thawed out with hot water or be cranked to get them started. And they did not run out of gas and stop in the middle of the road several miles from home, nor did they get a puncture or a flat tire.

And you didn't have to dig up

Nowadays the student flunks because he is worrying how to beg, borrow or swipe gas because he has used up his credit.

G. W. COX TALKS TO H. D. CLUB

"The time will probably come when motion pictures will play an important part in our public schools," said Mr. G. W. Cox, in speaking to the families of the West Side Home Demonstration Club assembled in the high school auditorium last Friday evening.

Commenting further, Mr. Cox explained that visual education is perhaps the most impressive. If it is impossible for a child to see a project or an industry in operation, then the next best thing is for him to see and hear a talking picture which can be brought to him at little expense. By request, Mr. Cox showed several groups of pictures which were made by him and his wife on their extensive travels throughout the United States. The pictures followed the annual banquet served by the ladies of the club. Tables, which had been conveniently placed in the gymnasium, were loaded with food served cafeteria style to the large crowd present. The menu consisted of baked chicken with dressing, sliced ham, green beans, peas, candied sweet potatoes, fruit salad, cake with whipped cream, and coffee.

Among the visitors present were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Carruth, Miss Fannie Sue Brasuel. Others present were the families of T. A. Dowlen, A. N. GRIFFIN-PIERCE NUPTIALS SPOKEN SATURDAY MORN

Miss Geneva Griffin became the bride of Mr. Porter Pierce of Arp, Saturday morning at 9 o'clock with a beautiful ring ceremony solemnized by the Rev. Charles L. Dickey of the local Presbyterian Church.

A profusion of flowers, appropriately placed palms and lighted tapers made up the impressive background for the wedding party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan K. Usery. Miss Frances Usery and Mr. Delbert Lowes were the only attendants of the bride and groom.

Wedding music was furnished by Miss Lottie Donaho of Borger during the wedding ceremony and at the reception which followed.

The bride was beautiful in her dress of ash rose crepe with touches of lace. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

The bridesmaid was dressed in turquoise blue and wore a shoulder corsage of pink sweet peas.

At the informal reception given by the couple following the ceremony, Mrs. Lydia Martin of Amarillo cut and served the wedding cake from a beautifully candle-decorated table. Miss Esther Rudolph presided at the coffee service. Only relatives and close friends of the bridal party were present.

Immediately following the reception the bride changed to a suit of beige cloth with accessories of brown. The couple left immediately for a trip to Monterey, Mexico.

Millions Mourn George V's Death

To the gates of Buckingham palace, staunchly symbolic of the power of the British empire, came thousands of English subjects the night of Jan. 20 to read the official bulletin announcing that King George V was dead at Sandringham house in Norfolk. During all the time that the monarch lay gravely ill, huge crowds gathered before this gate to read daily physicians' bulletins. In the left background a corner of the palace looms through wisps of London fog. The death notice bulletin is clearly visible on the iron fence to the left. People refused to believe their sovereign was dead until this notice was posted.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

World's Best Athletes Gather at Famous German Winter Playground to Vie for 1936 Olympic Titles

BY PHILIP MARTIN
THE Olympic hopes of 26 nations center these sharp winter days high in the mountains of Bavaria, at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany's winter playground.

Here, on Feb. 6, the curtain will be raised on the 1936 Olympic competition, which is to continue through Feb. 16, the world's most colorful sports event.

The setting will be distinctly North American, featuring an exhibition of ice hockey, a sport which has enjoyed a phenomenal growth since its introduction abroad. A liberal amount of time will be given to this game.

Rink representatives of the United States include Tom Moone, Frank Shaughnessy, Frank Spain, Paul Rowe, Frank Stubbs, Elbridge Ross, John C. Lax, Phil LaBette, John C. Garrison, Gordon Smith, August F. Kammer, and Malcolm McAlpin.

ANOTHER sport of American origin—figure skating—will likewise come in for considerable attention. Introduced by Jackson Haines 60 years ago during the course of a world tour, the ice ballet has attained a tremendous popularity on the other side of the Atlantic.

A group of nine ice skimmers will bear the colors of the United States, Maribel Y. Vinson heading the women included in this group. Miss Vinson is eight times winner of the women's national championship and was a member of the 1928 and 1932 Olympic teams.

Grace E. Madden, Estelle Weigel, Audrey Peppe, and Louise Weigel are the other entries, the latter two with previous Olympic experience.

Among the male members of the figure skaters, 15-year-old Robin Lee stands out as the premier attraction. Erle Reiter, George E. B. Hill, and James Madden complete the cast.

THERE are only two veteran speed skaters, Edward Schroeder and Allan Potts. Both participated in the last Olympic Games held in the United States, but only Schroeder is familiar with the European method of conducting this event, which is done by pairing the contestants and taking their time over a given stretch, allowing a flying start. Leo Freisinger, Robert Peterson, and Delbert Thomas Lamb will be assisting artists.

Bobsleds take the Bavaria curve of the famous winter sports ground in Germany, above, at terrific speeds, making sledding the most thrilling of all competition. The beautiful mountain scenery in the background is the setting of this year's Olympic Games.

The hair-raising bobsled events, however, will undoubtedly pull most interest. They will be conducted over a route having no less than 16 curves, most of them "hairpins." The United States will go to bat with practically the same team which cleaned up at the last Olympic, winning both the two-man and four-man team titles.

Skiing should also hold the spotlight, with one of the finest jumping grounds in Europe located at Garmisch-Partenkirchen. Paul Otter, Sattre and Casper Olmoe, two most consistent ski winners in this country for many years, are looked upon as the likely winners.

Newspaper Advertising

A fine testimonial to the increasing value of newspaper advertising as a producer of business and industrial development was given in a recent public statement by L. A. Warren, President of Safeway Stores, Inc., a chain grocery system serving western America.

Citing his own company as a barometer indicative of the attitude in general toward advertising, Mr. Warren declared that he considered the growth of Safeway Stores and similar systems but a reflection of the power of newspapers to build and maintain public respect and public patronage. He added: "It is through advertising that people come to know and to understand the scope of any business concern's public service, and the commodities it offers for public consumption."

"It seems only natural that those concerns using newspaper advertising, uninterrupted year after year, do retain the highest confidence of the public that they serve. Their customers have found out that they can truthfully rely upon the advertised product, service and economy which so often feature the display advertising of the chain stores."

"We have repeatedly endeavored to help farmers dispose of surplus or distressed crops by conducting widespread advertising campaigns on certain products at various seasons of the year. These campaigns have been eminently successful, and their beneficial effects to agriculture are both a tribute to newspaper advertising and the advantages of chain store distribution."

Any kind of merchandise, chain or independent, will doubtless reflect Mr. Warren's views. Newspaper advertising is not only the best way to get business for a good product or service—it is also the best way to hold it.

Military Trend in Style

War in the news has influenced styles as shown by the trim military frock worn by Helen Parris, film player. Frogs of cording hooked over twisted cord buttons are used to fasten this neopolitan blue crepe dress. A cherry red scarf is knotted at the neck, the ends extending to form the vestee.

EXCUSE ME, PLEASE

Canyon High School has been thoroughly interviewed. Some of the new-comer students found it difficult to become acquainted.

Some of the students insist on calling a teacher by his first name or withholding the Mr. from the title.

During the three minute intermission, there's usually a pair of boys exchanging blows as they loiter down the hall, or when a teacher is not looking, a mouth full of water serves the purpose.

Climbing the stairways is also a complicated affair. Practically the same problem is remedied on the highways by requiring each car to drive on the right side of the road.

In the interviews all the teachers acknowledged that none of us are perfect, but in the same interview they expressed their delight upon hearing our students say, "I would like to make your acquaintance," or "Excuse me, please. I'm sorry I bumped into you."

Coxes Entertain Seniors Tuesday

Stumbling over rocks and falling down hills was the fate of the Seniors when they went on a snype hunt at the party January 28 given by Sewel and Wesley Cox.

On arriving at the party, seniors were divided into four groups. Each group parted and went in different directions on the hunt for snypes.

After the return trip, shrieks were heard when the lights were turned out and a ghost appeared in the dark and passed her heart, vocal chords, brains, eyes, hands, backbone, and many other parts of her body around the circle of

EAGLES AND EAGLETES
MEET HAPPY TOMORROW
NIGHT, TULIA SAT. NIGHTEAGLETES STRIVE TO HOLD THEIR HOME COURT
TRADITION

The Canyon High School Eagles and Eaglettes will carry the proud purple and white on the hardwood floor when they meet the Happy Cowboys and Cowgirls Friday night at Canyon and the Tulia Hornets and girls in the Tulia gymnasium Saturday night.

The Eagles have defeated Happy twice this season; once in the Dimmitt Tournament and again in the Happy gymnasium.

Tulia lost to the Eagles in a previous game 37 to 15 but will have the advantage of playing in their home gymnasium.

The probable line-up will be: Jack Taylor (captain), forward; Darwin Dobbs, forward; Ray F. Rusk, center; Tom Harris, guard; Wesley Cox, guard.

Although the Cowgirls have ridden past the Eaglettes in the three preceding games, the Eaglettes feel as though they will fly high over the Cowgirls in the game tomorrow night.

The probable line-up for the game will be: Captain Brock, Davis, Bellah, Overton, Collins, and Slack.

January 3, the Tulia sextet and the Eaglettes met on the Eaglettes home court, and fought a hard and a fast battle. At the end of the game the score favored the Eaglettes, 24 to 13. The Eaglettes have not been beaten on their home courts. Will the tradition hold true?

Eagles, Eaglettes
Win Over Dumas;
Girls Tie Friona

The Eagles split the week-end cage series by trampling the Dumas Demons 54 to 16 Saturday night in the Eagles Gymnasium, and losing to the undefeated Friona Chiefs 15 to 10 Friday night on the Chiefs' home court.

With the Eagles' second team playing the last half of the Dumas game, they accounted for 21 of the Eagles' 54 points.

Ray Ford Rusk, towering Eagle center, was high point scorer with 14 points.

Rusk Holds Gower

Gower, highly touted Friona center was held scoreless by Rusk. Eagles center, and the determined defense of the Eagles.

The Chiefs were able to obtain only one crisp shot during the entire game, besides being held to their lowest score of the season by a high school team.

Harris, stellar Eagle guard received high point honors in the game with 5 points for the locals.

Eaglettes Battle to Tie

The Friona sextet and the Eaglettes battled to a 13 to 13 tie in a hard-fought defensive game in the Friona gymnasium Friday night.

Davis, Eaglette forward, scored 10 of the Eaglettes 13 points for scoring honors. Cole and Adams of Friona followed with five points each. Collins of Canyon was outstanding in her brilliant guarding.

The starting line-up consisted of: Slack, Davis, and Bellah, at forwards; with Collins, Overton and Brock at guards. Substitutions were McNeil for Slack and Greenfield for Overton.

Eaglettes Victorious

Trampling the Dumas sextet in a fast and thrilling game by a 28 to 20 score, the Eaglettes ended the schedule series with Dumas in the Canyon gymnasium Saturday night.

Davis, was again the outstanding forward of the game with 18 points to her credit, followed by Spencer of Dumas with nine points.

Those starting the game were: Slack, Davis, and Bellah, at forwards; and Collins, Greenfield, and Brock at guards. Substitutions were: Mayfield, McNeil, Donnell, at forwards; and Overton at guard.

shivering students.

At the close of the evening refreshments of hot chocolate, sandwiches, upside down cake, and mints were served.

S. H. Condron Talks
To P. T. A. Tuesday
on Trends of Today

"A wider use of school auditoriums will bring immeasurable benefits both to the neighborhoods and to the individuals who take advantage of their availability," said Mr. S. H. Condron, faculty member of West Texas State Teachers College, as he spoke to the Parent-Teachers Association last Tuesday night on "Trends of the Time."

"There is need too, for the social and cultural development that finds expression in neighborhood orchestras, choral clubs, and dramatic guilds," said the speaker, stressing continuation education of parents and adults.

Many Trends Mentioned

Mr. Condron talked on the following Trends of the Time:

From individualistic to collective economy and organization; from a geographical to an individual frontier; toward placing emphasis on economic rather than political issues; toward indoctrination; toward guidance of pupils in school; toward training and selection of leaders; toward longer periods of school training; toward continuation of education; toward concentration of government units into larger units and greater centralization of governing authority; toward humanitarianism.

A girls' sextet, composed of members from the high school Glee Club, will sing the closing number.

Anna Kathryn Overton, commonly known as Sis, received an injured side in the Friona game last Friday night. She is the first basketballer to receive an injury this season.

The coaches have been playing ping pong. Coach Jones won over the Band Director, Mr. Stevenson. Coach said he had to let Mr. Brown win one game out of a thousand to keep him interested.

R. E. Prichard, Eagle manager, is the top ping ponger in the high school. Ping pong seems to be one sport in which he qualifies. R. E. plays anyone and always wins. Even the coaches don't win over the manager when he is in the ping pong mood.

"Come, And Trip It
As You Go"

(EDITORIAL)

The Press Club of Canyon High School attended a meeting for journalistic writers at Panhandle last Saturday.

It was the third meeting of the P. H. S. P. A. which was begun year before last by the Canyon High School Press Club.

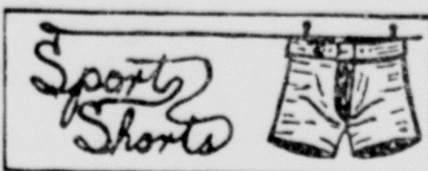

This was not the first time such a tour had been taken either by a club or a class.

Last year the Press Club went to Pampa and to Austin. The Senior Class went to Carlsbad, and elementary classes have made several shorter trips.

The members of the Press Club have been able to contact important journalists all over the state, and have talked their problems over with other high school journalists.

Such trips are not only educational, but also beneficial to those participating. They make students feel more free to "speak out," and feel at home among various groups of people. They broaden the knowledge and viewpoint of the student.

The students thank those who have made such trips possible.

Boxing has become the favorite sport of the high school since the mat and boxing gloves have arrived. Enthusiasm has become great, and a class will be started for the lovers of this sport as soon as basketball season is over. Berard Brown, present girls' basketball coach, will teach the class. It seems as though all of Coach Jones' basketballers want to box now. I wonder who will have the nerve to box Willard Childers when they are permitted to indulge in this sport? The mat will be placed in the high school gymnasium.

Coach L. T. Barksdale, former coach of the Wayland Junior College Jackrabbits, started coaching the College Training School Calves Tuesday when he replaced Coach Carl York. Mr. Barksdale coached the Eagles in 1932-33.

The coaches have been playing ping pong. Coach Jones won over the Band Director, Mr. Stevenson. Coach said he had to let Mr. Brown win one game out of a thousand to keep him interested.

La Tertulia Meets; 4B Has Party

The Junior Class made plans in the class meeting last Wednesday after assembly to send flowers to J. C. Bellah, a junior, who is in the St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo recovering from an appendicitis operation. They sent the flowers Wednesday.

Mary Charlotte Word, sophomore, celebrated her 14th birthday last Thursday night with a supper at her home. The guests included: Sarah Thompson, Billie Bee and Natalie Flesher, Martha Jo Newlin, and Lula Marie Ellison.

The members of La Tertulia turned Spanish for an hour last Tuesday night when they feasted upon Mexican chile and caroled Spanish tunes in native tongue.

Thirty-four Boy Scouts of Troop 30 held their weekly business meeting last Friday, in the basement of the Education Building. Each patrol gave a stunt. They closed with the Scout Oath and Laws.

The 4B class was surprised last Friday when Mr. Guy Harp and Mr. Dewey Foster visited and inspected the post office built by the group in connection with their unit on the post office. Both men made short, helpful talks. Mrs. Cousins, teacher of 4B, said "The group and its sponsor are grateful to these men for their interest and sincerely hope they will pay them another visit."

Mrs. J. M. Daugherty surprised the Eagle's Tale staff Monday night with a light lunch of smacks sandwiches, orange bread sandwiches, deviled eggs, and devil's food cake.

J. C. Bellah, junior, returned to his home Tuesday from St. Anthony's hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. He is recovering rapidly and is expected to be in school soon. Many friends visited J. C. at the hospital Saturday and Sunday, the first days since his operation he was able to receive visitors.

Officers were elected for 7A and 7B for the second semester as follows: president, Billie Joe Hunter; vice president, Hudson Prichard; secretary and treasurer, Sunshine Harden, and on the program committee: Raynelle Rigbsy, Eloise Nollner, and Kettie Johnson.

Rally Next Mar. 7

The annual District Home Economics Rally will be held March 7 at both Canyon High School and the Training School of West Texas State Teachers College.

The program will be based on the Texas Centennial which is being held this year at Dallas.

District meetings were held for the first time last year at Plainview. They were created in order to give smaller schools an idea of what state meetings are like.

The Canyon Eagles distinguished themselves as one of the outstanding high school quintets of the district Monday night with a 36 to 20 victory over the Amarillo Presbyterians, leaders of the City League and conquerors of the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm.

Loss of 100,000,000 Acres of Farming Land Spurs Soil Conservation

REGARDLESS of what federal farm aid program replaces the defunct AAA, American agriculture cannot afford longer to ignore a broad soil conservation program, farm leaders, soil experts, and lawmakers, meeting in Washington, agreed.

Lack of soil conservation, they found, is proving to be the most expensive production control program one might conceive—and without a cent of compensation to the farmer.

The recent special survey of the National Resources Board gives substantiating figures.

Approximately 100,000,000 acres of formerly cultivated land have been virtually destroyed in the United States by man-induced erosion. This is the equivalent of 625,000 farms of 160 acres each, or an area nearly equal to the combined extent of Ohio, Illinois, Maryland, and North Carolina.

MOREOVER, of the 350,000,000 acres now under cultivation, about 125,000,000 have lost all or most of their productive surface soil by sheet washing.

A hundred million acres in addition are undergoing serious erosion and the better soils of the country are being reduced at the rate of not less than 100,000 acres annually.

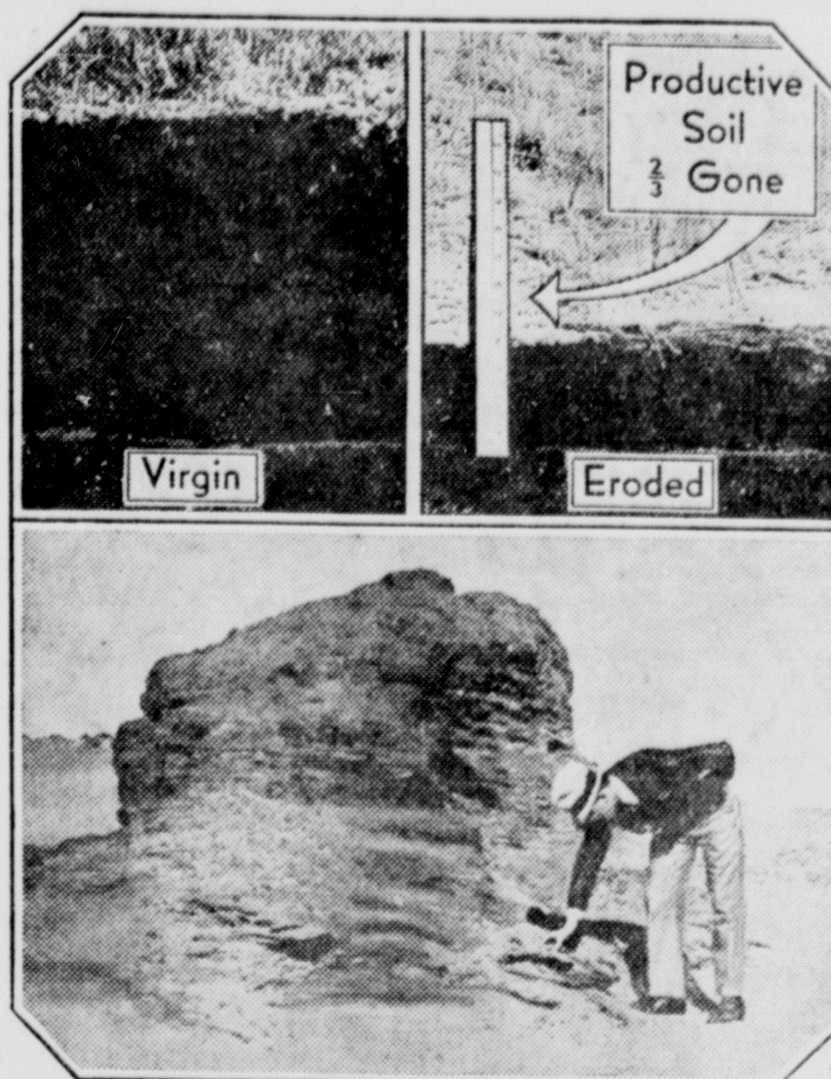

Faster than any other people in the world, Americans have been depleting their agricultural lands. With reckless prodigality they have assumed there was plenty of good land to be had in any event. But today, regional surveys have shown, there is none too much good farm land.

"At this moment," writes H. H. Bennett, head of the U. S. Erosion Service, "tens of thousands of farmers are trying to eke out a living on erosion-exposed subsoil where they have no real chance to make a satisfactory living, whether prices are up or down."

"There are large areas in some of the older sections of the country in which more than three-fourths of the land has been destroyed. American farming cannot afford that."

FIVE years ago the U. S. Department of Agriculture realized that erosion was fast becoming a serious problem. It began intensive soil measuring and water loss studies, but for the most part the interest of the general farming population was not attracted.

Then came the devastating dust storms—the result of man's careless handiwork—and attention

The farmer who owns the badly eroded field shown in cross-section, top, was robbed by his father and his grandfather. They haphazardly farmed, permitting erosion to wear away two-thirds of the productive soil. What is left is two to ten times less fertile. What is worse, the loose soil left becomes the source of severe dust storms. Three years ago all the land was level with the top of the center mound, bottom. Since then, parched earth has been blown out in clouds of every breeze and the level lowered six feet, except for the mound which is anchored by bush roots.

ized that erosion was fast becoming a serious problem. It began intensive soil measuring and water loss studies, but for the most part the interest of the general farming population was not attracted.

Then came the devastating dust storms—the result of man's careless handiwork—and attention was for the first time sharply focused on the necessity for soil conservation. The wheels began to move.

Now, with the crash of the AAA and the search for a new farm program, soil conservation more than ever before is driving home its point. It appears due for practical application at last.

Commerce Dept. Will Offer B. B. A. Degrees Next Year

In September, the Department of Commerce will become the Department of Business Administration. A standard Bachelor of Business Administration degree will be offered. Courses are being organized to accommodate three groups of college students.

1. Those who wish to become secretaries or stenographers.
2. Those who intend to teach commercial courses in modern high schools, and
3. Those who desire training to fit them for positions in the commercial world as managers, leaders and executives.

These courses will be outlined in the next college catalogue.

Yearlings To Play Wayland College Jackrabbits Friday

Following a brief lay-off because of the examinations, Coach Bob Cox is again sending his undefeated Yearlings through stiff workouts as a prelude to their scrap with the Jackrabbits of Wayland College in Plainview, Friday.

The Yearlings will shoot for their sixth straight victory. Wayland, Portales Junior College, Amarillo Junior College and Dalhart have been buried in rapid succession, and now the Frosh will be eyeing an undefeated cage season.

The Frosh are conceded the edge in their tussle with Wayland as a result of their 37-28 win in their season opener, but the inconsistencies in the game is evidence that the Jackrabbits are capable of turning the trick.

Shackleford, Johnson, Hayes, Speer and Arthur will probably get the call as starters, with Cullender, Hanson, Neillson, Hunt, Dysart, and Miller on hand to contribute their assistance.

The man who got disgusted strap-hanging is now going crazy looking for a place to park.

Credits Discussed Tuesday at Canyon Rotary Luncheon

Rolla Townsend of Amarillo discussed credits at the weekly luncheon of the Canyon Rotary Club. Mr. Townsend is manager of the credit association in Amarillo which has a record of 100,000 people in this territory.

"Credit is a device to accelerate the overturn of business," stated Mr. Townsend, as he told of 90% of the business of the nation being done by this method.

There are two classes of credits: open, or 30 day accounts; and installments. Unfortunately a recent survey showed that the average so-called 30 day account usually extends to 85 days, with 60 millions of dollars now past due in this nation. This causes a great burden to business firms operating on borrowed money. Slow pay is the national business curse.

Installment buying has great need of credit control. The curse of the installment buying is high pressure salesmanship, which causes the buyer to extend his credit beyond his ability to pay. "Gambling brought on the depression," stated the speaker as he recalled the spending spree.

Mr. Townsend described the operations of the organization which he manages, this being a part of a national organization from which business men may secure information on any person in the nation. The annual father and son day will be observed next Tuesday by the club.

Visitors present Tuesday were: Jesse Sanders and daughter, Miss Betsy Sanders, Ed Enoch, R. A. Ford, Rolla Townsend, all of Amarillo; Chas. Shearer of Seagraves.

Miss Helen Louise Gideon of Bronte has accepted a position with County Agent, W. H. Upchurch.

Drivers License

(Continued from page one) vehicles operated under jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission of Texas who are required to have a driver's license issued by that department; non-residents of the state, those who do not have licenses required in their home states having a 90-day period before a Texas license is necessary. Those to whom licenses shall not be issued include: persons under the age of 14 years, to whom an operator's permit is denied and persons under 18 years to whom a chauffeur's license shall not be issued; persons whose licenses have been suspended or revoked; persons who are habitual drunkards or addicted to the use of narcotic drugs; or physically disabled such that the physical defect incapacitates them from safely operating a motor vehicle.

Procedure Indicated When conditions make it necessary for persons under the age limits to operate a vehicle on a highway, the bill provides that the county judge may investigate and make recommendation to the highway department for issuance of a special permit.

Exact procedure necessary to obtain the license has not been sent from the state highway department, although the bill states: "Every application shall state the name, age, sex, residence address and such other physical description as may be required of the applicant, and whether or not the applicant has heretofore been licensed as an operator or chauffeur, and if so when and by what state, and whether or not such license has ever been suspended or revoked," and if so, for what cause and the date.

Considering persons under 18 years as minors, the bill requires that application of minors must be signed by the father of the applicant, or the guardian; and that in the event neither is living, the application must be signed by an employer or the county judge.

Driver's licenses except those issued to chauffeurs, shall expire three years from date of issuance, and must be renewed by that date. Chauffeur's licenses, costing $3 must be renewed annually.

Suspending Licenses Provisions for mandatory suspension or revocation of licenses include: "First the license of any person convicted of any of the following offenses—negligent homicide resulting from operation of a motor vehicle; driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drug; any offense punishable a felony under the motor vehicle laws of the state; upon three convictions of violating any of the provisions of Article 801 of the penal code of Texas, or section 10 of chapter 42 of the general laws of the second called session of the legislature, committed with a period of 12 consecutive months; a conviction of a driver of a motor vehicle involved in an accident or collision, upon a charge of failure to stop, render aid, and disclose identity at the scene of said accident or collision; and conviction upon two separate charges of aggravated assault upon a person by means of a motor vehicle, as provided by law.
